HCI'S IMPACT ON INDUSTRY AND THE CHI CONFERENCE CONNECTION

What is CHI?

CHI is the premier conference for human-computer interaction (HCI): the design, building and study of technologies to help people think, create and collaborate. Everything from the mouse to the smartphone has its roots in HCI!

HCI Impacts Revenue

HCI's impact on the technology industry has been enormous. Since the 1970's, leading companies have increased their success through the growing use of HCI methods to (1) avoid wasting precious investment money from failed deployments of inferior technologies and to (2) generate new revenue by identifying under-served needs and then to envision, design and test innovative products and services that fulfill the under-served needs effectively. HCI specialists employ a variety of techniques to determine whether products are learnable, usable, and valuable. Through rigorous beginning-to-end methods that combine concept design, design critique, cognitive analysis, performance experiments and more, HCI researchers assess whether technologies frustrate, thwart, and confound people, then design solutions that serve, engage and extend people's capabilities.

HCI Impacts Innovation

In addition to tremendous cost savings, the field of HCI has spawned billions of dollars of new revenue in innovative product and service categories. Early examples of the business value of HCI methods include Xerox's employment of cognitive psychologists, social scientists and engineers to develop copier interfaces, Graphical User Interfaces (GUI) and the development of the world's first commercial mouse and personal computer. HCI researchers at Xerox PARC, Olivetti and other corporations also envisioned and captured fundamental patents, designs and prototypes in the field of Ubiquitous Computing that anticipated the current age of network services, interactive displays, tablets and smart phones. Now, world-leading technology companies no longer rely solely on technical advances to lead the market, but they create differentiated products with innovative designs that are a delight to use.

HCI Creates Business Advantage

As a concrete example of the bottom-line value of HCI, consider a recent US court decision that did not recognize infringement of 3 technology-based patents, but awarded a significant sum in damages for the infringement of 7 patents related to design and interaction.¹ This ruling clearly illustrates that the court believes the HCI-related intellectual property created tremendous business advantage here.

The CHI Conference Connection

Since the development of the field, dozens of key HCI-generated products have been unveiled at the CHI conference prior to market deployment including multi-touch and 3D interaction, tangible interfaces, social networking, instant text messaging, personal health and elder care, fitness tracking, smart homes, internet of things, human-robot interaction and wearable devices. As the premier world-wide forum for the exchange of information on all aspects of human-computer interaction, the CHI conference is often the first public demonstration of such advanced technologies.

Each year, CHI sees thousands of the top researchers, scientists, and designers in the world attend to present their latest research, solve their hardest problems, learn new material and build their networks. 92% report it was "worth their time and money", a remarkable approval rating for an event of this size.

Top corporations, ranging from processor manufacturers (Intel), operating system vendors (Microsoft), laptop, tablet and smartphone manufacturers (Samsung, Dell, Hewlett Packard, Apple), web service providers (Google, Yahoo, eBay, Amazon),, telecommunication carriers (NTT Docomo, Verizon), automobile manufacturers (Ford, Audi) as well as emerging companies and startups send employees to the CHI conference to present and hear the world's most advanced innovations.

Sponsorship brings incomparable visibility to some of the top minds on the planet. This is the place to meet, influence and learn from the top scientists, researchers, teachers and designers building tomorrow's technologies. It's an opportunity not just to show off your best products and ideas, but to build networks and relationships for the future.

Please join us in San Jose, in the heart of Silicon Valley, as a CHI 2016 Sponsor.

AN INVITATION TO EXHIBIT

CHI is the premiere worldwide forum for professionals interested in all aspects of human-computer interaction (HCI). The conference features work on the hardware and software engineering of interactive systems, the structure of communication between human and machine, characterization of the use and contexts of use for interactive systems, methodology of design, design artifacts and experiences, and future technologies.

Conference Format

CHI 2016 is a four-day conference (Monday through Thursday). The conference is organized around papers, presentations, speakers and discussions on how to create better interactive experiences. It includes As the foremost conference in its field, CHI 2016 continues to offer a wide-ranging program, supporting and facilitating the exchange of ideas within and between all of these communities.

Who Will be at CHI 2016?

CHI 2016 brings together computer scientists; visual, interaction, product and experience designers; human factors and ergonomics professionals; psychologists; social scientists; software developers; software/hardware architects; engineering, product and quality managers; educators and evaluators. These are the professionals who work at the heart of making systems and products usable.

CHI 2016 will be held at the San Jose Convention Center in the heart of San Jose. The theme, #chi4good, references the value of HCI beyond the balance sheet, pointing to HCI's engagement with making the world a better place. At the same time, it represents the remarkable value that HCI brings to the world: improving user experience, user retention and customer value. It points to the lasting changes that CHI has made and is making in the world: not just temporary fixes, this is CHI for good.

CHI brings together attendees from countries around the world, representing a myriad of cultures and application areas, whose diverse perspectives influence each other. CHI 2016 is truly an opportunity to find the latest in research and design of the world's most innovative technologies.

If your organization supplies systems or products that involve users interacting with computer technology and the user aspects are important to the success of your product, then this conference will be of special interest to you.

CHI 2016 is the place your organization needs to be to learn about leading-edge research and imminent technologies.

Our first foray into Asia, CHI 2015 in Seoul, Korea had over 2500 attendees. CHI 2014 in Toronto, Canada, was a very successful conference, hosting about 3000 attendees from all over the world. CHI 2013 in Paris, France, was also highly successful. Almost 3500 attendees from over 50 different countries gathered there. Past CHI attendees have worked in the computer industry, education, research, telecommunications, government, finance and banking as well as many other areas. CHI 2016 is expected to be another highly successful conference, and we anticipate breaking all previous attendance records.

About San Jose, CA

San Jose is the heart of Silicon Valley: arguably the most influential technological hub in the world. It's a safe, easy to navigate and safe city with a dry, Mediterranean climate and a growing arts scene. It's minutes away from the headquarters of literally hundreds of technology companies, as well as a short drive or train journey from the arts and culture metropolis of San Francisco, the beautiful Pacific coast towns of Monterey or Santa Cruz, and within a easy reach of Napa Valley, Sonoma, or Santa Barbara for a weekend in wine country. The food is excellent, the wine superb, and the innovation simply remarkable.

Every effort will be made to respect the Exhibitor's booth preferences whenever possible, but ACM/CHI 2016's decision will be final. ACM/CHI 2016, in its sole discretion, reserves the right to make changes in booth assignments that it deems are in the overall best interest of the exhibit program. CONDITIONS OF CONTRACT TO EXHIBIT (CONTINUED)

14. Insurance Information

ACM/CHI 2016 will endeavor to assist in the protection of exhibitors by providing 24-hour guard service. However, due to the tremendous value of exhibits, it is impractical and impossible to insure Exhibitors' equipment against loss, theft, damage, and breakage. In addition, the Exhibitor must assume responsibility for damage to the Exhibit Building property and indemnify and hold harmless the Exhibit Building from liability, which might ensue from any cause whatsoever, including accidents or injuries to Exhibitors, their guests, or employees. The Exhibitor must also assume responsibility for any accident, injury or property damage any person incurs while viewing his exhibit where such accident, injury, or property damage is caused by the negligence of the Exhibitor, agent, or employees. In view of the foregoing, Exhibitors are urged to place "extra territorial" and other coverage on equipment and exhibits, and arrange for extended public liability insurance with their regular insurance carrier, particularly if they are conducting experiments or demonstrations using heat or high voltage. ACM/CHI 2016 and the ACM/CHI 2016 Exhibits Management will cooperate fully but cannot assume responsibility for damage to Exhibitors' property or lost shipments, either coming into or going out of the premises, or for moving costs. Any damage due to inadequately packed property is Exhibitor's own responsibility. If Exhibit fails to arrive, Exhibitor will nevertheless be responsible for booth rent and no refund will be made. Exhibitors should carry insurance against such risks.

15. Hospitality Events

Hospitality space may be available in designated conference hotels and the Exhibit Building. All hospitality suite functions are required to be registered with the Exhibit Coordinator and cannot conflict with any of the conference courses, plenary sessions, technical sessions, or general receptions. Hospitality space is made available first to conference sponsors and then on a "first come, first served" basis to Exhibitors. Please contact the CHI 2016 Exhibit Coordinator for further information on reserving hospitality space.

16. Cancellation or Termination of Exhibit

If, because of war, fire, strike, Exhibit facility construction or renovation project, government regulation, public catastrophe, Act of God, public enemy, or other cause beyond the control of ACM/CHI 2016, the Exhibition or any part thereof is prevented from being held, is canceled by ACM/CHI 2016, or the Exhibit Space becomes unavailable, ACM/CHI 2016, in its sole discretion, shall determine and refund to the Exhibitor its proportionate share of the balance of the aggregate exhibit fees received which remain after deducting expenses incurred by ACM/CHI 2016 and reasonable compensation to ACM/CHI 2016. In no case shall the amount of refund to Exhibitor exceed the amount of exhibit fee paid.

17. Exhibitor Cancellation

Cancellation of any portion of this Application/Contract by the Exhibitor will be accepted only at the discretion of ACM/CHI 2016 and then only based upon the following refund policy. Prior to 19 February 2016, fifty percent (50%) of the total contract fee will be refunded. After 19 February 2016 no refunds will be given unless space is resold. If the space is resold, fifty percent (50%) of the total contract fee will be refunded. Except as the Exhibitor's rental obligation may be reduced as set forth in the preceding sentence, the Exhibitor is responsible for total booth rental irrespective of the reason for the cancellation by Exhibitor or because of the failure of an Exhibit to arrive for any reason.

18. Exhibitor Conduct

Exhibitor and its representatives shall not congregate or solicit trade in the aisles. The prior written consent of ACM/CHI 2016 is required for the employment or use of any live model, demonstrator, solicitor, or device for the mechanical reproduction of sound. Such employment or use shall be confined to Exhibit Space. ACM/CHI 2016, in its sole and absolute discretion, may withdraw its consent at any time, in which event Exhibitor shall terminate such activity immediately. All promotional plans must be submitted to ACM/CHI 2016 for approval. Distribution of pamphlets, brochures, or any advertising matter must be confined to the Exhibit Space. Exhibitor is prohibited from bringing alcoholic beverages into the Exhibit Area. Exhibitor shall refrain from any action that will distract attendees from attendance at the Exhibit during open hours. Exhibitor or any of its representatives shall not conduct itself in a manner offensive to standards of decency or good taste.

19. Photographs

No photographs shall be taken without prior consent of ACM/CHI 2016 and the Exhibitors involved.

20. Registration Lists

ACM/CHI 2016 will provide a one-time use registration list to Exhibitor, if requested by Exhibitor on the Application/Contract. A list is available 3 weeks prior to the conference or 3 weeks after it. Exhibitor must indicate which list is preferred on the Application/Contract. It is understood that the list is postal addresses only for a single use. Exhibitor agrees not to sell, lend or give lists to any parties outside of Exhibitor's organization.

21. Insurance Requirements

All exhibitors participating in the CHI 2016 Exhibition are required to obtain a general public liability insurance in the amount of one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence. ACM SIGCHI and Convention Center shall be named as additional insureds on the general liability policy. Such insurance maintained by the exhibitor must be issued by an insurance company with an A.M. Best rating of A- or higher and shall include coverage of the indemnification obligations of the exhibitor under these rules and regulations. Each exhibitor is also required to carry workers compensation protecting employees in accordance with the laws of the state or province in which the exhibition is being held. Nothing in this paragraph shall limit the amount of liability an exhibitor may be responsible for.

22. Agreement to Conditions of Contract to Exhibit

Exhibitor agrees to observe and abide by the foregoing Conditions of Contract to Exhibit and by such additional Conditions of Contract made by ACM/CHI 2016 from time to time for the efficient or safe operation of the Exhibit including, but not limited to, those contained in this contract. In addition to ACM/CHI 2016's right to close an Exhibit and withdraw its acceptance of this Application/Contract, ACM/CHI 2016, in its sole judgment, may refuse to consider for participation in future Exhibits an Exhibitor who violates or fails to abide by all such Conditions of Contract to Exhibit set forth in the Application/Contract. There is no other agreement or warranty between the Exhibitor and ACM/CHI 2016 except as set forth in this document. The rights of ACM/CHI 2016 under this contract shall not be deemed waived except as specifically stated in writing and signed by an authorized representative of ACM/CHI 2016.
